

美國華人醫師會

Association of Chinese American Physicians USA, Inc.

Elmhurst Library Community Health Program

- Conducted once a month, featuring the health topics you are most concerned about
- Renowned and experienced doctors will give live presentations and provide on-site Q&A to address your questions and concerns.
- Location: Elmhurst Library Conference Room
- Date and Time: Monday 01/22, 02/12, 03/11, Thursday 04/18, 05/16, 06/20, 7/11, 8/8, 9/12, 10/10, 11/14, 12/12 2:00 PM to 4:00 PM

About the Association of Chinese American Physicians USA Inc (ACAP)

The Association of Chinese American Physicians (ACAP) is a non-profit organization comprised of Chinese American doctors in the United States. Its primary goal is to provide members with opportunities for medical education and professional development, as well as foster collaboration among physicians. ACAP's membership includes doctors practicing in the Greater New York area, physicians and researchers working in healthcare institutions, and young medical professionals currently pursuing their studies in medical schools.

In addition to its focus on professional development, ACAP is dedicated to giving back to the Chinese community. It provides free health services and health lectures to assist Chinese residents in understanding the American healthcare system and raising awareness of healthcare practices. ACAP's efforts aim to improve the health and well-being of the Chinese community by offering accessible resources and promoting healthcare literacy.

For more information, please visit the official website of the Association of (ACAP) at <http://www.acaponline.org/>. Or follow ACAP's official public WeChat account for updates and information.

